CATCHING BUONO.

The time to capture a criminal is usually just after the crime is committed, and naturally this is just the time he usually is not caught. Exceptions work to all rules, but it was the rule rather than the exception that held in the recent murder case in Charleroi. Now it is a case of catching up with Buono and the man who gets this clever person after so long a time is going to do-erve all the glory he wins and whatever material reward may be his.

For a man to brazenly walk into a shop on a busy street, call a man to the rear, shoot him to death and to brazenly walk out again to freedom is about the nerviest piece of work that could be accomplished. It is that nervy kind of work that will win freedom for a criminal sooner than anything else. The human mind gets all tangled up thinking about how things might happen and is surprised when the least expected does happen. Astonishment is a result and likewise a cause. It is a result of the shock at the happening of the unexpected and the cause of the criminal's escape.

Buono is going to be a hard man to catch. He is nervy and shrewd. He has had plenty of time to prepare himself against any possible surprise, wherever he may be, and that he is well fortified may be depended upon.
It is a slight to talk about smart defective work and exceedingly entertaining to read those sleuth tales of Sopran Doyle and others, where some remarkable criminal is apprehended through some remarkable means by some remarkable person, but in real life it is a slightly different matter.

It is very possible and highly probable that the accused Buono will be captured some time, but we venture it won't be soon, and when it does happen, it will be through some fault of the man himself. For such is the psychology of crime.

WHAT THE EXPENSES TELL

The political temper of the people of Pennsylvania at the recent election was probably best reflected in the expense accounts so far filed by the various candidates. Senator Penrose, who was re-elected by an overwhelming plurality spent a trifle over $9,000.
Gifford Pinchot, the bull moose candidate who ran second in the contest, spent more than $80,000, while A.
Mitchell Palmer spent more than two cents for every vote received by him.
Palmer finished last in the senatorial race and was humiliated beyond measure by the contempt in which he was held by the voters.

The people have grown weary of the temperance party and its policies. Their tongues were to lead Palmer as a result of his party and many of them said to Pinchot in the heat of the campaign that they would vote for him if he were a Republican.

W. E. C. who was re-elected to the state senate from Fayette, the same county, spent but a trifle over $100. The fact that Senator Crowley, leaving the Republican as state senator attracted opposition that otherwise would not have developed and he was forced into a fight, "hotter than" was ever before seen in his county, for he won handsomely and with the outlay of a comparatively small amount of money.

Similar reports are in from other sections, showing in every instance that the people had determined to vote down Democracy and its disquieting policies and establishing beyond dispute that Pennsylvania has returned permanently to her old Republican smorings, all of which is certain to provide a Republican President to succeed Woodrow Wilson.

A Letter from Santa Claus

My Dear Children:--I just wanted to let my dear little Folks of Charleroi know that I have made Might's Book Store my Headquarters this Xmas. I have simply filled their Toy Department with a larger and newer line of Toys than I have ever shown in Charleroi before. I have made it my business to see that my Children here will not be forgotten even if the War has made it very hard to get Toys. Prices this year if anything will be cheaper than last. So be sure and make your selections so that I may have everything tied up and ready for you Xmas Eve.

Lovingly Yours,
Santa Claus

ELECTRIC SPARKS

Up in Fayette county somebody murdered a deer, then it was given to a county institution. Of course the law hasn't been violated this once, but if a regular practice is made of the thing it will doubtless become a violation in time.

The way of the transgressor is hard because so many people have tramped on it.

Charleroi has had one murder in five years. They're getting altogether too frequent.

What would Thanksgiving be without a Monon-Charleroi game.

Monessen has organized a committee on defense. Can't blame them either.

Most men are always ready to teach the other fellow whether they know anything to teach him or not.

Not a word has been said of Turkey since Thanksgiving.

The foot and mouth disease does not bother some people in the least, since they haven't tasted beefsteak for a year.

The fame of the Charleroi motor fire truck has spread. No sooner had a fire alarm come from Bentleyville and the truck made ready that the fire was reported out.

Its letter to be famous than infamous and great to be both.

Uncle Sam is making a fight for the farmers, who in 1916 will be expected to cast their vote just right.

An exchange wants someone to contribute a poem on the subject of President Wilson, which indicates that they have been consuming a lot of hum poetry on nothing at all.

The Charleroi Police have been called to the scene of a "death" which was a "death" as a "death" killed a "death" killed.

"Yes, sir."

"It is."

"Good. Then I'll go into my office

Monessen and Indians Tie.

The Monessen All Stars football team and a team of ex-Charlisle Indians played a tie game at Monessen with the score 7 to 7 Saturday afternoon. Tom Mangan, of Charleroi, who was a Bellefonte Academy star this last season played quarterback for Monessen.

Hook and Eye.

The scene was a teachers' training college; the class one of girls; the lecturer on phonetics a gentleman with a nice taste in sarcasm. "This sound," he said, "has for symbol something even you can all remember—a dressmaker's hook; just the ordinary thing you are all familiar with." As he spoke, says the Manchester Guardian, he drew the symbol in chalk on the board, and the worried pupils all laughed. Even they—to borrow the professor's remark—knew that the "hook" depicted was an "eye."

THE BIG STORE

517-519-521 Fallowfield Avenue

Every Honorable, Temperate and Industrious Man of the white race, and between the ages of twenty-one and fifty years is invited into

THE LOYAL ORDER OF MOOSE

FRATERNAL, EDUCATIONAL, BENEFICIAL AND SOCIAL

An order whose aim is to amalgamate the better element of each community into one brotherhood, whose object is the advancement of social and moral development and the protection of mutual interests.

Founded upon a plane of absolute democracy, our fraternalism is positive, slogan being "All for One and One for All."

Ritual beautiful and elevating, its lesson inculcating upon the novice our tenets: Purity, Aid and Progress.

$7.00 per week sick or accident benefits paid. One hundred dollars funeral benefits.

In addition, the privilege of "Mooseheart," our magnificent Home and Vocational Schools, is an insurance of inestimable value, and it is an honor to share in its support. This institution has the best equipment and will be the largest establishment of its kind in the world. Built upon a foundation of true fraternity, it is a school for the orphaned, which shall have no taint of charity; a home for the aged without suspicion of alms-giving.

Men over the age of fifty may become non-beneficial members. While not sharing in the benefits, they are not debarred from office.

The above home now being erected in Charleroi will cost $35,000 when completed. It will contain shower baths, bowling alleys, pool tables, reading rooms and everything for the comfort and enjoyment of its members.

Charleroi Lodge at the present time has 408 members. Since Oct. 16, 1909 we have paid out in sick and accident benefits $6978.00 and $1100.00 death benefits also $751.80 to needy members and families and for charitable purposes.

We also have arrangements made to send three children of one of our deceased members to Mooseheart, our vocational school where they will be educated and made ready for life's battle at no expense to the family or to our lodge.

Under special dispensations from the Supreme Lodge the Initiation fee is reduced to $5.00. Dues are reasonable and assessments are never made.

AMES J. DAVIS, Director, General.

JOHN H. RISBECK, National Director.

Local Address 325 McKean Ave., or any member of Charleroi Lodge

While the growth of the Order has been wonderful during the last eight years, the expansion has not been of a madman's kind, as the following statements show:

Over $6,000,000 handled by the subordinate lodges during the year 1913-14 in the payment of sick, accident and funeral benefits.

The above figures bear testimony that the order aids in time of sickness, and comforts in the hour of sorrow. A material manifestation of the spirit of fraternal love.

The Loyal Order of Moose should appeal to the good man as one of his lines of duty to be discharged in the interest of his family and his fellowman. Your failure to provide for yourself and your family the grand privileges enjoyed by others may be a source of regret and possibly remorse to darken your declining years.

The Moose have clubhouses everywhere, providing a home wherever you may be, where good fellowship reigns supreme.

SPOILED BY LIFE IN EAST

Uncle Sam's Army Officers and Servants
They Miss Native Servants
When They Return Home.

One of the members of the staff of army engineers who has just been relieved from duty on the Panama canal called attention the other day to an aspect of life on the isthmus which has received little attention in this country.

"I was born in the South," he said, "and I can just remember the perfect servants that my father had when I was a boy. I was too young to remember much about the conditions that prevailed on the big plantations before the conflict, but through my parents and most of their neighbors were ruined by it and had to curtail their establishments, the negroes who stayed in service retained the tradition of ante-bellum days for many years after the war.

"When I left my home it was to come face to face with the servant problem as it is known only in the North. I had forgotten that there was such a thing as a cheerful, competent servant who did not feel above his work, until a kind Providence sent me to the isthmus. A Jamaican negro whom I employed as a man of all work about my quarters showed me depths of domestic contentment that I never dreamed existed.

"That man, I am certain, stayed awake nights to think up little attentions with which to surprise me. I never returned from a hard day on the canal so hot and tired that Christy did not succeed after a few minutes in nursing me into a good humor. The amazing thing about him, as about all good servants, was the perfect tact he displayed. His knowledge of my moods was almost uncanny, and seemingly he took a delight in anticipating the vagaries of my temper. Sometimes I thought he regarded it as a sort of game in which he matched his powers of pleasing against my bad disposition.

"Old naval officers tell of a man well known in Japan some years ago who after 30 years spent on the other side of the Pacific, decided to revisit his native land. For months before his visit friends in this country received letters from him full of anticipation of good times. At last a letter gave the date of his arrival. The newspapers reported that his ship had made port, but the expatriate didn't turn up to greet his expectant friends. Instead one of his acquaintances got this note:

"Dear Jim: I arrived today, but I'm going right back. I'm hanged if I'll stay in a country where a man has to put in his own shirt studs."

"That tale may seem extreme to a person who has never known the luxury of life in countries where servants are plentiful, but since I have been to Panama and the Philippines I have come to have much the same attitude. It is a terrible jolt for an army lieutenant who has been living like a lord and saving money on his pay in the tropics to wake up to face debt and a half bedroom in New York."

Old Custom Upheld by Law.
The quaint custom of "downing tools" when a fatality occurs in a pit prevails at the New Moss colliery, Ashton-under-Lyne, as at other places in the English coal fields. Not long ago a miner met with an accident, and a rumor spread among the men that he had been killed. Some 30 or 40 men in the shaft ceased work, and the next day 200 failed to go to work, with the result that the colliery was stopped. With a view to stopping the custom the 200 men and youths were summoned for leaving work without giving notice. In this case the man was not dead, and damages were claimed for the stoppage of coal getting. The men marched in procession to the court, singing all the way, and were received in front of the court house by a large crowd of several thousands. After a hearing occupying five hours the bench dismissed all the cases on the ground that the men had proved the custom. The result was received with cheering in the court, and the defendants were demonstratively received by the large crowd on emerging.

As a Principle of Gravity.
Newton discovered the principle of gravity; he did not undertake to explain what the mysterious force is. Modern physicists are inclined to think that its nature is electrical. But Dr. John Mills, in a letter to Science, states the problem that is of chief concern to thinkers, is as follows: "Neither a quest for an 'explanation' of the cause of natural gravity, on the one hand, nor a mere non-logical acceptance of the fact as a matter of belief or blind faith on the other, but the evolutionary development in the minds of men of a scientific satisfaction not only with not knowing, but with not ever being able to find out any rational and consistent theory or explanation for the attractive influence among all portions of matter which is called gravity and which is the essential, universal and unalterable attribute of all material things whatsoever. Obviously, such a conception involves rather more of philosophy and psychology than of so-called physical science."

Poor Quality.

"An' you were at MacDougal's last night—what kind o' mahn is he?"
"Leebra! w! his whisky—but the quality o' it's that indecent I verra near left some!"

WAR BULLETINS

London, Nov. 30.—The Russians southwest of Lemberg. The fighting has been ferocious, under many difficulties which were increased by the severe cold, bitter winds and occasional snowstorms. It is reported that the Russians have won important positions from the Austrians after fighting for the last two days.

New York, Nov. 30.—Edward Bright, an American citizen, graduate of Columbia university and former editor of the Baptist Examiner, is under arrest at Goettingen, Germany, charged with being a spy. His wife has taken the matter up with the American government and an investigation has been started.

London, Nov. 30.—It is reported that Germany has demanded that the Swedish government suppress any Swedish utterances against Germany in Swedish newspapers. Germany's declaration making wood contraband of war, has caused a tremendous revulsion of feeling in Sweden and Norway against Germany and agitation for an understanding with Russia.

Lemberg, Galicia, Nov. 30.—The Russians have accomplished the difficult feat of throwing an army through the Carpathian Mountains $15,000,000 a year.

Make Your Own Cough Medicine

The difference in buying one of the most efficient, latest and up-to-date cough and cold remedies (which can be made at home), and buying the old, ordinary, ready-made kind, is that with the new one you get all pure medicine, instead of buying a large proportion of sugar and water, besides paying for bottles, cork and labels; and it usually requires 2 to 3 bottles of the old-fashioned, ready-made remedies to break up a cough or cold, while 2 ounces (50c worth) of Schiffmann's new Concentrated Expectant, which is so strongly concentrated that 2 ounces, when mixed at home with simply one pint of granulated sugar and one-half pint of water, make a full pint (16 ounces) of excellent cough remedy, and will be sufficient to probably cure the whole family the entire winter. It positively contains no chloroform, opium, morphine or other narcotics, and is so pleasant that children like to take it. Arrangements have been made with drug stores named below to refund the money to any person who finds it does not give perfect satisfaction, or if it is not found the very best remedy ever used for coughs, colds, bronchitis, croup, whooping cough and hoarseness. You will be the sole judge, and under the positive guarantee by these druggists, absolutely no risk is run in buying this remedy. For sale here by Piper's Pharmacy.
